Dear Chair DeGioia, President Emmert & NCAA Board of Governors,

We, the undersigned 2,702 individuals and 57 organizations, urge the NCAA leadership and Board of Governors to publicly release all findings and recommendations of the comprehensive review of gender equity issues in NCAA sports, conducted by Kaplan Hecker & Fink LLP.

Our understanding is that the first phase of this review is focused on basketball and includes an investigation into the disparities that were visible during the recent Division I tournaments, as well as systemic and structural issues within the sport, and a later phase includes a review of gender equity in other sports and championships governed by the NCAA.

It is critical that the NCAA not only provide complete and full disclosure of the results of this review but also include specific, actionable next steps to ensure that there is accountability and meaningful change. We must seek to improve the systems and structures that have allowed such inequities to persist for so many years.

The NCAA must regain public trust and confidence in its commitment to gender equity and investment in women's sports and, particularly given the widespread public and social media scrutiny, this can only occur through transparency and actionable items. Without complete transparency regarding the shortcomings and recommendations for change, this investigation will fall short of addressing the deeply ingrained and systemic gender inequities in NCAA sports and championships.
